1           The Settlement was reached only after nearly two years of hard-fought litigation 2 and resulted from arm's length negotiations with an accomplished mediator among 3 experienced and capable counsel with a comprehensive understanding of the merits and 4 value of the claims asserted.

5           The Class's reaction to the Settlement and Plan of Allocation has been positive to 6 date. Pursuant to the Order preliminarily approving the settlement ("Preliminary 7 Approval Order" or "PA Order") (Doc. 137), the Court-approved Claims Administrator, 8 A.B. Data, Ltd., has, inter alia, mailed over 9,000 copies of the Notice of Pendency and 9 Proposed Settlement of Class Action (the "Notice") and the Proof of Claim and Release
10 form ("Claim Form") to potential Class Members and nominees, posted the requisite 11 documents to the Action's settlement website, and caused the Summary Notice to be 12 published in Investor's Business Daily and transmitted over GlobeNewswire. Wilson 13 Decl. ¶¶ 52-56.<sup>2</sup> Although the deadline for Class Members to object to the Settlement or 14 request exclusion has not yet passed, thus far no requests for exclusion or objections have 15 been received. Id. ¶¶ 57-59.

16           In light of the considerations discussed herein, Plaintiff and Lead Counsel submit 17 that the Settlement is fair, reasonable, and adequate; satisfies the standards of Rule 23, 18 the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 (the "PSLRA"), 15 U.S.C. § 77z-1, 19 the local rules of the District of Arizona, and due process; and provides a favorable 20 recovery for the Settlement Class. Plaintiff accordingly requests that the Court grant the 21 relief requested herein.

22           This motion is based upon the below memorandum of points and authorities; the 23 Wilson Declaration, with attached exhibits, filed herewith; the Declaration of Jack

6 To avoid undue repetition, Plaintiff respectfully refers the Court to its Motion for 7 Preliminary Approval of Settlement and the Wilson Declaration for a more detailed 8 description of Plaintiff’s claims and the prosecution of this Action. See Doc. 125 and 10 Briefly, the initial federal complaint in this action was filed on April 1, 2020. Doc.

11 1.<sup>3</sup> On June 22, 2020, the Court appointed DeKalb as Lead Plaintiff, the Faruqi Firm as 12 Lead Counsel, and the DeConcini Firm as Liaison Counsel. Doc. 33 at 4.

13 Following appointment, Plaintiff filed an amended operative complaint (“AC”) on 14 August 17, 2020, alleging that Mesa’s Registration Statement for its IPO contained 15 material misstatements and omissions in violation of Sections 11, 12(a)(2), and 15 of the 16 Securities Act (15 U.S.C. §§ 77k, 77l(a)(2), 77o), as well as violations of Items 303 (17

18 and risks from the Registration Statement. Doc. 52. On October 1, 2020, Defendants 19 moved to dismiss the AC, and submitted a Notice of Incorporation by Reference and 20 Request for Judicial Notice (“Request for Judicial Notice” or “RJN”) in connection 21 therewith. See Docs. 56 to 59. The Court heard in-person oral argument on July 15, 22 2021. Doc. 75. On July 22, 2021, the Court denied the motion to dismiss in part and 23 granted it in part, and granted the RJN in part. Doc. 81 (“Motion to Dismiss Order” or 24 “MTD Order”). After vigorous negotiations over the schedule in this case, necessitating

25
26 <sup>3</sup> Shortly before that complaint was filed, a similar securities class action was filed in 27 Arizona state court in City of Pittsburgh Comprehensive Municipal Pension Trust Fund v.
28 Mesa Air Group, Inc., et al., Case No. CV2020-003927 (Superior Court of Arizona in and for the County of Maricopa, filed March 24, 2020).

1 the filing of a Joint Proposed Case Management Report, a supplemental Rule 26(f)
2 report, and argument in two scheduling conferences, the Court issued its Scheduling 3 Order on October 15, 2021. Doc. 101.

4       Thereafter, the Parties engaged in discovery, which included the exchange of Rule 5 26 initial disclosures, and the service of interrogatories and document demands. Wilson 6 Decl. ¶ 26. On December 31, 2021, the parties entered into a Joint Stipulation regarding 7 Class Certification (Doc. 108), which was adopted by the Court on January 24, 2022.
8 Doc. 113. On January 5, 2022, Defendants filed a Motion for Leave to File an Early 9 Motion for Summary Judgment based on negative causation (“Motion for Leave”), which 10 Plaintiff opposed. See Docs. 109 to 112 and 116 to 118. On March 1, 2022, the Court 11 entered an Order denying Defendants’ Motion for Leave, without prejudice. Doc. 120.

12       On March 2, 2022, the Parties engaged in a mediation session before Jed D.
13 Melnick, Esq., of JAMS Mediation Services, a highly experienced securities litigation 14 mediator. Wilson Decl. ¶ 32. The mediation was preceded by submission of confidential 15 mediation statements and exhibits. Id. The Parties came to an agreement in principle 16 during the mediation session and thereafter Lead Counsel reviewed over 70,000 pages of 17 confirmatory discovery to ensure that the Settlement was fair, reasonable, and adequate.
18 Id. The complete terms of the Settlement negotiated by the Parties are set forth in the 19 Stipulation and are subject to final approval by the Court. Id. ¶¶ 45-49.

20       On May 6, 2022, Plaintiff filed the Preliminary Approval Motion. Doc. 125.
21 Following a hearing on October 28, 2022, the Court issued the Preliminary Approval 22 Order on October 28, 2022, which approved the form and manner of providing notice to 23 the Settlement Class and set a hearing date for the Final Approval Hearing, as well as 24 deadlines related thereto. Doc. 137. The details of the notice program’s progress to date 25 is explained in further detail below.

ARGUMENT

I. THE PROPOSED SETTLEMENT MERITS FINAL APPROVAL

Rule 23(e) provides that a class action settlement must receive court approval. A court should approve a class action settlement if it determines that the settlement is “fair, reasonable, and adequate[.]” Rule 23(e)(2). While the authority to grant such approval lies within the court’s discretion, the Ninth Circuit has a “strong judicial policy that favors settlements, particularly where complex class action litigation is concerned.” In re Heritage Bond Litig., No. 02-ML-1475 DT, 2005 WL 1594403, at *2 (C.D. Cal. June 10, 2005). Indeed, as one court has explained, “intrusion upon what is otherwise a private consensual agreement negotiated between the parties to a lawsuit must be limited to the extent necessary to reach a reasoned judgment that the agreement is not the product of fraud or overreaching by, or collusion between, the negotiating parties.” Nobles v. MBNA Corp., No. C 06-3723 CRB, 2009 WL 1854965, at *1 (N.D. Cal. June 29, 2009). Thus, when deciding whether to approve a settlement, the court must ensure that: (1) “the settlement is not the product of collusion among the negotiating parties” and (2) that the “settlement is fundamentally fair, adequate, and reasonable.” Hayes v. MagnaChip Semiconductor Corp., No.14-cv-01160-JST, 2016 WL 6902856, at *4 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 21, 2016).

A. The Proposed Settlement Is Not The Result of Collusion

As the Ninth Circuit explained in In re Bluetooth Headset Products Liability Litigation, the court must analyze whether the settlement was reached as a result of collusion between the parties. DeStefano v. Zynga, Inc., No. 12-cv-04007-JSC, 2016 WL 537946, at *8 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 11, 2016) (citing Bluetooth, 654 F.3d 935, 947 (9th Cir. 2011)). As Plaintiff explained throughout its Preliminary Approval Motion, there was no collusion here. Plaintiff and Lead Counsel agreed to settle only after engaging in hard-fought litigation and in a mediation process overseen by an experienced mediator. Doc. No. 125 at 7-11.

1           Additionally, none of the subtle factors indicating collusion are present either. See
2 Bluetooth, 654 F.3d at 947 (identifying three subtle signs of collusion: (1) when class 3 counsel receives a disproportionate percentage of the settlement; (2) when the parties 4 negotiate a “clear sailing” agreement separate from the settlement fund; and (3) when the 5 parties arrange for fees not paid to revert to defendants). Lead Counsel is requesting an 6 award of attorneys’ fees equal to 25% of the Settlement Fund, which is based on the 7 benchmark in this Circuit and often awarded in similar actions, thus weighing against a 8 finding of collusion. See § I.B.3.c, infra. There is also no “clear sailing” agreement—i.e., 9 an “arrangement providing for the payment of attorneys’ fees separate and apart from 10 class funds[.]” Bluetooth, 654 F.3d at 947. The attorneys’ fees are to be paid only out of 11 the Settlement Fund, at a rate approved by the Court, and any fees requested but denied 12 by the Court would remain in the Class’s Settlement Fund. See Stip. ¶¶ 13-20. Even if 13 there were such an agreement, “the absence of a ‘kicker provision’ stating that all fees not 14 awarded would revert to defendants, weighs against a finding of collusion.” Klee v.
15 Nissan N. Am., Inc., No. CV 12-08238 AWT (PJWx), 2015 WL 4538426, at *10 (C.D.
16 Cal. July 7, 2015).

17           B.     The Proposed Settlement is Fair, Adequate, And Reasonable

18           To determine whether a proposed settlement is fair, adequate, and reasonable, 19 courts consider the factors in recently amended Rule 23(e)(2), which provides that a court 20 may grant final approval of a settlement only after a hearing and only on finding that it is 21 fair, reasonable, and adequate after considering the factors set forth therein. See PA Mot.
22 6. Amended Rule 23(e)(2)’s factors do not displace the factors that the Ninth Circuit 23 previously used to determine whether the settlement is fair, reasonable, and adequate, 24 several of which overlap with Rule 23(e)(2)’s factors. See id.

25           As explained in the Preliminary Approval Motion, all of the requirements imposed 26 by Rule 23(e)(2) and the relevant Ninth Circuit factors have been met. Courts that have 27 analyzed proposed settlements following the amendments to Rule 23 have found that the 28

1 factors are usually satisfied where little has changed between preliminary and final 2 approval. See In re Chrysler-Dodge-Jeep Ecodiesel® Mktg., Sales Pracs., & Prods.
3 Liab. Litig., No. 17-md-02777-EMC, 2019 WL 2554232, at *2 (N.D. Cal. May 3, 2019) 4 (finding that the conclusions the court made in granting preliminary approval “stand and 5 counsel equally in favor of final approval now”); In re GSE Bonds Antitrust Litig., No.
6 19-cv-1704 (JSR), 2020 WL 3250593, at *1 (S.D.N.Y. June 16, 2020) (stating that the 7 Court’s previous orders granting preliminary approval of the settlements at issue already 8 detailed why the relevant factors support approval, readopting that analysis at the final 9 approval stage, and focusing only on “those few developments since” preliminary 10 approval that impact the analysis). Nevertheless, the factors are briefly analyzed below.

11 1. The Class Has Been Adequately Represented

12 Rule 23(e)(2)(A) is satisfied because Plaintiff and Plaintiff’s Counsel have 13 adequately represented the Class throughout the litigation and will continue to do so 14 through the Settlement administration process. Plaintiff’s interests are directly aligned 15 with those of other Class members, as it claims to have suffered damages from the same 16 alleged conduct, and through those claims seeks the same recovery from Defendants. See 17 PA Mot. 7-8 (explaining Plaintiff’s adequacy). Additionally, Plaintiff has actively 18 overseen the litigation every step of the way, having, among other things, reviewed 19 filings in this Action, communicated with counsel about all aspects of the case, responded 20 to discovery requests, and authorized the proposed settlement. See Wilson Decl., Ex. 6 21 (Plaintiff’s declaration). Furthermore, Plaintiff’s Counsel has zealously represented the 22 Class at all times. See generally Wilson Decl.; see also PA Mot. 7-8, 15-16 (explaining 23 counsels’ adequacy).

24 2. The Proposed Settlement Was Negotiated at Arm’s Length

25 Rule 23(e)(2)(B) is satisfied because the proposed Settlement was the result of 26 arm’s length negotiations between Lead Counsel and Defendants’ counsel. The Ninth 27 Circuit “put[s] a good deal of stock in the product of an arms-length, non-collusive, 28

1 negotiated resolution” in approving a class action settlement. Rodriguez v. W. Publ’g
2 Corp., 563 F.3d 948, 965 (9th Cir. 2009); see also In re Netflix Privacy Litig., No. 5:11-3 CV-00379 EJD, 2013 WL 1120801, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 18, 2013) (finding the fact that 4 the settlement “was a product of arm’s length negotiation before a mediator” relevant to 5 its decision to grant final approval).

6 As described in the Preliminary Approval Motion and the Wilson Declaration, the 7 Settlement is the product of extensive arm’s length negotiations among counsel with 8 significant experience in securities class action litigation, and was reached following 9 mediation with an experienced mediator. See Wilson Decl. ¶¶ 31-37. Lead Counsel 10 thoroughly investigated the facts and law, drafted the AC, and vigorously opposed 11 Defendants’ motion to dismiss and RJN, plan for bifurcation of discovery, and Motion 12 for Leave. Id. ¶¶ 14-30. After submitting mediation statements and exhibits, the Parties 13 engaged in a mediation session with the assistance of Jed Melnick, a well-respected 14 mediator. See id. ¶¶ 31-32. After debating their positions during the mediation session, 15 the Parties reached an agreement in principle to settle the Action and, following extensive 16 confirmatory discovery, came to a final agreement on the full terms of the Settlement.
17 See id. ¶¶ 33-37. Thus, the Settlement was plainly the result of hard-fought, arm’s length 18 negotiations among the parties.

19 3. The Relief Provided for the Class Is Adequate

20 a. The Costs, Risks, and Delay of Trial and Appeal

21 Rule 23(e)(2)(C)(i) requires the Court to consider whether the Settlement Amount 22 is adequate when taking into account the costs, risks, and delay of trial and appeal. This 23 inquiry overlaps with the following Ninth Circuit factors: “the strength of the plaintiffs’ 24 case;” “the risk, expense, complexity, and likely duration of further litigation;” and “the 25 amount offered in settlement[.]” See Churchill Vill., L.L.C. v. Gen. Elec., 361 F.3d 566, 26 575-76 (9th Cir. 2004).

1 As the Ninth Circuit has noted, “[t]he proposed settlement is not to be judged 2 against a hypothetical or speculative measure of what might have been achieved by the 3 negotiators. . . .”; rather, “the very essence of a settlement is compromise, a yielding of 4 absolutes and an abandoning of highest hopes.” Officers for Justice v. Civil Serv.
5 Comm’n of City and Cty. of S.F., 688 F.2d 615, 624-25 (9th Cir. 1982) . Thus, “[t]he fact 6 that a proposed settlement may only amount to a fraction of the potential recovery does 7 not, in and of itself, mean that the proposed settlement is grossly inadequate and should 8 be disapproved.” Linney v. Cellular Alaska P’ship, 151 F.3d 1234, 1242 (9th Cir. 1998).
9 When determining the reasonableness of the settlement, “the Court must balance against 10 the continuing risks of litigation (including the strengths and weaknesses of the plaintiff’s 11 case), the benefits afforded to members of the Class, and the immediacy and certainty of 12 a substantial recovery.” Johansson-Dohrmann v. Cbr Sys., Inc., No. 12-cv-1115-MMA 13 (BGS), 2013 WL 3864341, at *4 (S.D. Cal. July 24, 2013). While “there is no particular 14 formula by which the outcome must be tested” when “assessing the strength of a 15 plaintiff’s case,” “[t]he court may presume that through negotiation, the Parties, counsel, 16 and mediator arrived at a reasonable range of settlement by considering Plaintiff’s 17 likelihood of recovery.” In re Celera Corp. Sec. Litig., No. 5:10-cv-02604-EJD, 2015 18 WL 7351449, at *5 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 20, 2015).

19 As explained in the Preliminary Approval Motion, the $5,000,000 Settlement 20 provides an immediate benefit to the class and is adequate when compared to the risk that 21 no recovery, or lesser recovery, might be achieved after protracted litigation. Plaintiff 22 has always believed that its claims have merit and would be proven through fact 23 discovery. See Wilson Decl. ¶ 38. Despite this confidence, Plaintiff is aware of the 24 substantial risks and expenses that would be presented by further litigation based on its 25 work to date. Id. ¶¶ 38-39. For example, Defendants have maintained that they have a 26 complete negative causation defense under Section 11(e) of the Securities Act. See id.

27

28

1 ¶ 40; PA Mot. 9. If Defendants successfully asserted this defense at summary judgment, 2 or trial, the Class would have no damages. See Wilson Decl. ¶ 40.

3 It is well known that class action litigation is inherently complex, see Nobles, 2009
4 WL 1854965, at *2, and this case is no exception. As explained in the Preliminary 5 Approval Motion and the Wilson Declaration, the motion practice surrounding case 6 management and the Motion for Leave plainly demonstrates the cost, risks, and delay 7 present in this Action. There is no doubt that Defendants would continue to aggressively 8 litigate were this Action to continue. See Wilson Decl. ¶¶ 39-40. Thus, even after the 9 considerable time and expense of additional discovery, which would span many more 10 months, there is a chance Plaintiff's claims could be dismissed at summary judgment. Id.
11 Even if Plaintiff's claims survived summary judgment, a trial in the Action would be time 12 consuming, expensive, and expend judicial resources. Id.

13 In light of the foregoing, the Settlement Amount of $5,000,000 provides a 14 favorable result for the Class and is well within the range of reasonableness. Id. ¶¶ 45-15 49, 70. It represents approximately 5.3% of the $93.9 million in maximum possible 16 statutory damages estimated by Plaintiff's damages consultant before taking into account 17 Defendants' defense of negative causation, and approximately 16.6% of the $30 million 18 in maximum damages estimated by Defendants if Plaintiff was able to overcome 19 Defendants' negative causation defense not premised on lack of stock price reaction. See 20 id. ¶ 70; PA Mot. 11. This is well within the range of typical recoveries in complex 21 securities litigation such as this. See PA Mot. 11-12 (citing caselaw); Docs. 125-4 to 22 125-9 (caselaw submitted with PA Motion).

23 b. The Proposed Method for Distributing Relief Is Effective

24 Rule 23(e)(2)(C)(ii) requires the court to consider whether the proposed method of 25 distributing relief to the class is effective, including the processing of class members' 26 claims. The method used in this Action is traditionally used in securities class actions.
27
28

1 professional staff time and results in a negative multiplier. See Wilson Decl. ¶¶ 73-74.

2 As explained in the Preliminary Approval Motion, the Stipulation provides that 3 attorney’s fees are to be paid “immediately after the Court executes an order awarding 4 such fees and expenses notwithstanding any objection thereto[,]” subject to the obligation
5 to repay as described therein. Stip. ¶¶ 13-20. The timing of payment is standard in class
6 action cases and typically approved. See PA Motion 13. Lead Counsel respectfully 7 submits that the contemplated attorneys’ fee award and the timing of payment are 8 reasonable and do not weigh against final approval.

9 d. Related Agreements

10 Rule 23(e)(2)(C)(iv) requires the Court to determine the proposed Settlement’s 11 adequacy in light of any agreements made in connection with it. As disclosed in the 12 Preliminary Approval Motion, the only such agreements here are the Confidential 13 Supplemental Agreement Regarding Requests for Exclusion (“Supplemental 14 Agreement”) and the escrow agreement. See PA Motion 13-14.

15 4. The Settlement Treats Class Members Equitably

16 Rule 23(e)(2)(D) requires the court to consider whether “the proposal treats class 17 members equitably relative to each other.” The Plan of Allocation does just that, 18 calculating each Authorized Claimant’s losses based on the timing of their purchases and 19 sales of Mesa securities and providing that each Authorized Claimant shall receive their 20 pro rata share of the Net Settlement Fund based on their recognized losses. Plaintiff’s 21 request for an award of $5,382.18 pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 77z-1(a)(4) is reasonable, as 22 explained in the accompanying Fee Motion,<sup>4</sup> and does not change this conclusion. See 23 Fee Motion at 2, 14-15; see In re Regulus Therapeutics Inc. Sec. Litig., No. 3:17-cv-182-
24 BTM-RBB, 2020 WL 6381898, at *5 (S.D. Cal. Oct. 30, 2020) (finding that a reasonable 25

26 <sup>4</sup> “Fee Motion” refers to Lead Counsel’s Motion for an Award of Attorneys’ Fees, 27 Reimbursement of Expenses, and an Award for Lead Plaintiff, filed contemporaneously 28 herewith.

1 service award to lead plaintiff “does not constitute inequitable treatment of class 2 members”).

3 5. Stage of the Proceedings and Extent of Discovery Completed

4 When determining whether the stage of the proceedings and extent of discovery 5 completed supports settlement, “the court focuses on whether the parties carefully 6 investigated the claims before reaching a resolution.” Zynga, 2016 WL 537946, at *12.
7 While the litigation settled in its early stages, the Parties garnered substantial information 8 related to the Action and their respective claims and defenses prior to engaging in 9 settlement negotiations, and Lead Counsel reviewed over 70,000 pages of confirmatory 10 discovery to ensure that the Settlement was fair, reasonable, and adequate before entering 11 into the Stipulation. Wilson Decl. ¶¶ 31-44. Thus, the parties had sufficient information 12 to make an informed assessment of the Action’s strengths and weaknesses and the 13 Settlement’s fairness. See Rieckborn v. Velti PLC, No. 13-cv-03889-WHO, 2015 WL 14 468329, at *6 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 3, 2015) (finding that “[d]espite reaching settlement 15 relatively early in the life span of this case, the Settling Parties have shown that their 16 decision to settle was made on the basis of a thorough understanding of the relevant facts 17 and law[.]” even though settlement was reached before the filing of a motion to dismiss).
18 Thus, this factor supports final approval.

19 6. The Risks of Maintaining the Class Action Through Trial

20 As explained in the Preliminary Approval Motion, the Class was certified on 21 January 24, 2022, although there is always a risk that the Class could be decertified later.
22 See Rule 23(c)(1)(C).

23 7. The Experience and Views of Counsel

24 “Great weight is accorded to the recommendation of counsel, who are most 25 closely acquainted with the facts of the underlying litigation.” Nat’l Rural Telecomms.
26 Coop. v. DIRECTV, Inc., 221 F.R.D. 523, 528 (C.D. Cal. 2004); see also Ramirez v.
27 Ghilotti Bros. Inc., No. C 12-04590 CRB, 2014 WL 1607448, at *1 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 21, 28

1 2014) (finding that experienced class counsel’s support for the settlement, which “was 2 reached after arm’s length negotiations,” weighed in favor of settlement).

3 As set forth in detail in the Faruqi Firm’s resume, Lead Counsel is a national law
4 firm that has substantial experience litigating securities class action lawsuits. See Wilson
5 Decl., Ex. 2. Likewise, the DeConcini Firm has substantial complex litigation experience 6 and has served the Class ably as Liaison Counsel. See Urman Aff. ¶ 2. Defendants were 7 also represented by highly reputable firms. Lead Counsel, having carefully considered 8 and evaluated the relevant legal authorities and evidence to support the claims asserted 9 against Defendants, the likelihood of prevailing on these claims, the risk, expense, and 10 duration of continued litigation, and the likelihood of subsequent appellate proceedings 11 even if Plaintiff prevailed at trial, concluded that settlement here is a favorable result for 12 the Class. See Wilson Decl. ¶¶ 38-44. Thus, since “[b]oth Parties are represented by 13 experienced counsel[,] . . . their mutual desire to adopt the terms of the proposed 14 settlement, while not conclusive, is entitled to [a] great deal of weight.” In re Immune 15 Response Sec. Litig., 497 F. Supp. 2d 1166, 1174 (S.D. Cal. 2007).

16 8. The Reaction of the Class

17 “It is established that the absence of a large number of objections to a proposed 18 class action settlement raises a strong presumption that the terms of a proposed class 19 [action settlement] are favorable to the class members.” In re Omnivision Techs., Inc., 20 559 F. Supp. 2d 1036, 1043 (N.D. Cal. 2008). “[T]he willingness of the overwhelming 21 majority of the class to approve the offer and remain part of the class presents at least 22 some objective positive commentary as to its fairness.” Celera, 2015 WL 7351449, at 23 *7. To date, a total of 9,661 copies of the Notice and Claim Form have been mailed to 24 potential Class members and nominees, and the Summary Notice was published in 25 Investor’s Business Daily and transmitted over GlobeNewswire on November 28, 2022.
26 See Wilson Decl. ¶¶ 53-55. Despite this large number of potential Class Members, no 27 objections or requests for exclusion have been received. Thus, although the time for 28

1 objections and exclusions has not yet expired, the reaction of the Class so far confirms 2 the adequacy of the Settlement. See id. ¶¶ 57-58; see also Zynga, 2016 WL 537946, at 3 *14 (stating that a low number of exclusions supports a settlement’s reasonableness).<sup>5</sup>

4 II. THE PLAN OF ALLOCATION IS FAIR, REASONABLE, AND 5 ADEQUATE

6 The Court has broad discretion in approving a plan of allocation. “Approval of a 7 plan of allocation of settlement proceeds in a class action under FRCP 23 is governed by 8 the same standards of review applicable to approval of the settlement as a whole: the plan
9 must be fair, reasonable, and adequate.” In re Am. Apparel, Inc. S’holder Litig., No. CV 10 10-06352 MMM (JCGx), 2014 WL 10212865, at *18 (C.D. Cal. July 28, 2014). “A plan 11 of allocation that reimburses class members based on the extent of their injuries is 12 generally reasonable.” In re High-Tech Emp. Antitrust Litig., No. 11-CV-02509-LHK, 13 2015 WL 5159441, at *6 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 2, 2015).

14 In developing the Plan of Allocation, Plaintiff enlisted the help of a damages 15 consultant who is familiar with the damage issues in this Action, as well as the help of the 16 Claims Administrator which has experience implementing plans of allocation in 17 securities class actions. See Wilson Decl. ¶ 64. The Plan of Allocation’s objective is to 18 distribute a pro rata share of the Net Settlement Fund to Authorized Claimants based 19 upon their claimed losses consistent with the AC’s allegations. See id. ¶ 62. Specifically, 20 after Authorized Claimants submit their Claim Forms and supporting documentation, the 21 Claims Administrator will calculate their Recognized Loss according to a formula that 22 will take into account when and at what price they purchased Mesa securities. See id. ¶ 23 63.

25
26 <sup>5</sup> One of the Ninth Circuit factors used to determine whether a settlement is fair, 27 reasonable, and adequate—the “presence of a governmental participant”—is irrelevant 28 because there is no governmental entity involved. Zynga, 2016 WL 537946, at *8.

1           Thus, “the plan allocates the settlement fund proportional to the actual injury of 2 each class member. Accordingly, the plan of allocation is fair, reasonable and adequate.”
3 Patel v. Axesstel, Inc., No. 3:14-CV-1037-CAB-BGS, 2015 WL 6458073, at *7 (S.D.
4 Cal. Oct. 23, 2015); see also Heritage, 2005 WL 1594403, at *11 (“[A] plan of 5 allocation . . . fairly treats class members by awarding a pro rata share to every 6 Authorized Claimant, [even as it] sensibly makes interclass distinctions based upon, inter 7 alia, the relative strengths and weaknesses of class members’ individual claims and the 8 timing of purchases of the securities at issue.”).

9           The terms of the Plan of Allocation were fully disclosed in the Notice that was 10 mailed to 9,661 potential Class Members and nominees and posted on the settlement
11 website. See Wilson Decl. ¶¶ 53, 55. While Class Members have until March 17, 2023 12 to object, there have been no objections to the Plan to date. See id. ¶ 57-58, 65. Thus, 13 Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court approve the Plan of Allocation as fair, 14 reasonable, and adequate.

15 III. THE NOTICE PROGRAM SATISFIES RULE 23, THE PSLRA, AND DUE 16 PROCESS

17           Notice of a class action settlement must meet the requirements of Rule 23, the 18 PSLRA, and the due process clause of the United States Constitution. Rules 23(c)(2)(B) 19 and 23(e)(1)(B) require that the Court direct to class members “the best notice that is 20 practicable under the circumstances” and “in a reasonable manner[.]” The PSLRA and 21 the due process clause impose similar requirements. See PA Mot. 16.

22           The Court preliminarily approved the form, content, and method of dissemination 23 of the notices provided to potential Class Members. See PA Order ¶ 5. Pursuant to the 24 Preliminary Approval Order, the Notice and Proof of Claim Form have been mailed to 25 9,661 potential Class Members and nominees beginning on November 18, 2022. See 26 Wilson Decl. ¶ 53.

27

1 As described in the Preliminary Approval Motion, the Notice included the 2 information required by Rule 23, the due process clause, and the PSLRA. See PA Motion 3 16-17. Courts in this Circuit have routinely found that this method of mailing, 4 publication, and Internet notice satisfies the applicable notice standards in similar class 5 actions. This manner of providing notice represents the best notice practicable under the 6 circumstances, is typical of the notice given in other class actions, and satisfies the 7 requirements of Rule 23, the PSLRA, and due process. See, e.g., Celera, 2015 WL 8 7351449, at *5 (finding a similar notice plan appropriate).

9 Thus, Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court find the notice program satisfies 10 the requirements of Rule 23, the PSLRA, and due process.

11 CONCLUSION

12 For the reasons stated above, Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court: (a) 13 grant final approval of the proposed Settlement; (b) find that the form and manner of 14 giving notice of the Settlement to the Class satisfied due process, Rule 23, and the 15 PSLRA; and (c) grant approval of the Plan of Allocation.
